

International Student Services Policy

Version number	5
Approved by	Corporate Governance Board; Academic Board
Date of approval	17/09/2020

Purpose

Central to Sydney Institute of Higher Education (SI)'s approach to providing higher education is the belief that all students should have equal access and opportunity to succeed in their programs, and that education offered must be tailored to SI's specific higher education cohort. Ongoing academic and non-academic support for students is integral to ensuring this access and opportunity.

SI has identified that international students face unique challenges for the duration of their studies and often require targeted support services to assist them in progressing through their programs. This International Student Services Policy outlines the principles guiding the establishment of international student services at SI. It details the information that will be available to international students prior to enrolment, the range of support services that SI will provide, and SI's approach to monitoring international students' program progression.

Scope

This policy applies to all international students, both current and prospective, as well as positions and bodies internal to SI who are involved in providing support and advice to international students.

Principles

This policy complies with the Education Services for Overseas Students Act (ESOS Act) 2000.

SI is dedicated to ensuring that all students have equal access and opportunity to succeed in a program at SI, regardless of background. SI recognises that providing academic and non-academic support services, targeted to the cohort, is key to facilitating this access and opportunity.

International students must be provided information about the options available to support them through study in a new country.

SI must allow informed student decision-making about accessing measures to address issues that impact on their ability to participate fully in education.

Through international student services, SI strives to create a comfortable and supportive learning and teaching environment for international students.

Procedures

Information to international students

Prior to enrolment or visa application, all international students must be given comprehensive, up-to-date, and accessible information as per the Information for Students Policy. This includes a formal letter of offer outlining the specific nature of the arrangement with the student and attaches all terms and conditions of enrolment.

Following the completion of the enrolment process, students will be issued information about attending new student orientation, and a student handbook with more specific information about student support services.

International students will also receive advice and support during the visa application and program application processes. For more information, see the Education Agents Policy.

Support services

SI offers a range of academic and non-academic support services which will be available at no additional charge to international students.

These services include:

- Academic and English language support
- Program advice
- Counselling
- Practical advice regarding essential services: accommodation, health, postage, banking, transport.
- Disability support
- Workshops designed to help with transitioning to Australia
- Complaints and appeals processes.

Additionally, Student Administration staff may also refer international students to more appropriate external support services at no extra cost, such as:

- Employment assistance
- Crisis and trauma assistance
- Emergency and health services
- Legal and advocacy services
- Visa advice
- Generalised tax advice
- Mentoring programs.

International students will be given information on how to access support services and resources via orientation sessions and the Student Handbook. SI staff must also give timely and accurate advice on SI support resources on request.

These services will be designed to cater to each student cohort, and SI will collect feedback via student feedback surveys to ascertain their effectiveness.

All professional staff are trained to be aware of the rights and specific needs of international students. The International Student Support Advisor acts as the primary point of contact for international students and ensures that all support services are readily accessible.

Arrival

SI will establish a service that allows international students to arrange transport to pick them up and drop them off at a destination of their choice upon arrival in Australia. The availability of this service will be made clear in the material provided at the new student orientation program, as well as on SI's website; if international students wish to utilise this transport service, they must contact SI prior to their arrival in Australia.

Orientation

Whilst all students of SI undergo orientation, international students will receive additional information regarding Australian culture and the locale surrounding SI.

International students will be instructed on how to access emergency services in Australia, as well as general safety and health tips for living and studying in Australia.

International students will also be briefed on the variety of academic and non-academic support services available to them as outlined above.

For more information, refer to the Orientation Program Policy.

English language support

Whilst SI enforces strict English standard entry requirements (refer to the English Language Entry Requirements Policy) for international enrolments, it must nonetheless be acknowledged that at times, due to the complexity of program content, English language support is necessary in order to ensure that international students are able to make the most of their educational experience.

SI will offer the following in order to help improve the English skills of international students, and particularly academic language skills to aid the learning of their program material:

- Student-led conversational English programs
- English Language Support classes and workshops
- Academic Skills classes and workshops
- For more information please refer to the Academic Language and Learning Support Policy and the English Language Support and Academic Skills Plan.

Online Delivery of SIHE programs including classes and workshops

In response to COVID-19, SIHE will make flexible timetables to accommodate face-to-face teaching and/or online delivery for classes and workshops until further notice. SIHE aims to continue to deliver a high-quality educational experience and exceptional student engagement through interactive online and face-to-face learning.

Where required, all SIHE programs are available in an online delivery mode where face-to-face delivery is not possible. This decision is to ensure the safety of SIHE staff and students as well as the wider community and is made in accordance with the current government health advice and regulations.

Program progression

SI understands that international students face can face unique challenges when it comes to program progression compared to domestic students. As such, student services will review the array of support services available to international students, and make improvements where possible.

Should an international student fall into the at-risk category, the procedures in the Students at Risk and Unsatisfactory Progress Policy will apply, however, additional assistance will be provided with regard to visa issues that the international student may encounter as a result of their at-risk categorisation.
